

Women as Well as Men are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens vitality, beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers who found Swamp-Root to be just the remedy needed. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

As to Marketing.

But few young housewives, and for that matter, not many old ones, know how to select the freshest and most profitable fresh when they are bought or how much to buy for the family.

She should, however, aim to allow one-half pound of meat for each person. The fat should be firm, but if hard and salty, it indicates that the animal was old and tough; if thin, from a sorority animal.

The best veal is usually of a pale color, although the veal of a deep color is more juicy. When examining veal see that the kidney is enclosed in fat, which should be firm and white.

The odor, if any, ought to be natural and not disagreeable.

Beef or mutton should be of a deep rose color, and the fat a rich cream. The choicest cuts for roasting are the sixth, seventh and eighth ribs, sirloin and porterhouse cuts. Sirloin and short cut porterhouse steaks are best, although many prefer the ribbone steak.

Good pork has a smooth, thin rind which is firm to the touch and of a light color.

Bacon should be white and firm, not yellowish or too fat. A pink or rosy streak is considered a good sign. A steel skewer (pin for holding meat in shape) driven into bacon or ham should come out clean. If particles of meat cling to it or if any unpleasant smell is detected, it should not be used.

When selecting poultry see that the feet are soft and moist, the eyes clear, the flesh plump and healthy looking. A bluish or greenish look around the veins indicates decay.

If there is any suspicion that a fowl has been in cold storage pour hot water into the inside. If any disagreeable odor is detected the fowl is not fit for the table.

Though a farmer for years, he also was a carpenter. He was a church member for 40 years or more and his pastor, the Rev. Mr. Blake of East Hebron conducted the funeral service.

WEST FRYEBURG.

Mrs. Amanda M. Kelly.

The daughter of a veteran of the war of 1812, the granddaughter of a soldier of the Revolutionary war and sister of a survivor of the Civil war who served with the army of the Potomac and proudly bears the scars of battle. Gettysburg as he enters his 82d year, are some of the distinctions borne by the subject of this sketch.

Amanda M. Heath was born in Green Hill, Conway, eighty-three years and six months ago. Her parents, John Heath and Mary Cobb represented pioneers, probably pre Revolutionary, settlers of the section including Fryeburg and Conway.

When twenty-five years old Amanda married Edmund Kelly, whose ancestors were among the earliest settlers of the eastern section of Conway, and removed to the Kelly homestead to spend the ensuing years of a prosperous and happy domestic life during which the aged members of the household and shared the loving ministrations of the young people and the devoted and patient aid and cheer of their matured experience until old age summoned them to the "rest of God's beloved."

A remarkable household when it is considered that a member of the same of a younger generation avers that not an unkind word was passed from one to another can be remembered while the mother-in-law, having never had a daughter of her own, gave to the younger woman the actual mother love in full measure. It is said of Mrs. Kelly that she was the one in the neighborhood always called upon to assist the sick and suffering and was ever ready with kindly work or deed for all.

Nine years ago death removed an affectionate husband and father when Edmund Kelly departed this life and now again lies fall upon the grave of a loved and cherished one. Always called upon to assist the sick and suffering and was ever ready with kindly work or deed for all.

Interment was in the family lot in the West Fryeburg cemetery, the bearers being A. R. Shirley, J. H. Woodward, G. M. Wentworth and Eben Flint. Beautiful flowers, sweet tribute of affection of many friends covered the grave of the beloved dead.

Mrs. Kelly is survived by a brother, Orrin Heath of Conway, by four children, J. E. and Walter of Conway, Mrs. Mary S. Webster and Mrs. Weston Wentworth of Nashua, N. H., besides six grandchildren and two great grand children.

Richardson, also by the attendance of two members of the class of '13, to which Johnnie belonged, and a pillow marked with the name of the college and the year of graduation. The bearers were Carleton Fox, Fred Harriman, Owen Griffith and Frank Holmes. Interment at Riverside cemetery.

The parcel on the easterly side of said road comprises all the lands on said easterly side of said road, which are called in and also the so-called "route pasture", and which said parcel is bounded westerly by said road, northerly by said Jack Pike land, southerly by a stone wall, bounding the field on that side, and easterly by the field wall to its end at said mule pasture, thence running easterly across a rod to an apple tree, spotted thence northerly across said mule pasture to the end of a stone wall, which bounds the field on the northerly side of said mule pasture, and thence by said field wall to said Pike land, together with the buildings thereon. Also all the interest of said mortgagee in the books running through the adjacent land of said mortgagee for domestic purposes and for enjoying the fishing therein, including the right to enter on and pass over the adjacent land of said mortgagee for said purposes, but reserving the grave yard on said premises and a right of pass thereon, all as described in said mortgage deed.

And whereas, the condition of said mortgage has been broken, now, therefore I claim foreclosure of said mortgage by reason of the breach of its condition.

HIRAM.

Farm of Historic Interest. Samuel L. Clemens has sold his farm, known as the Bucknell place to William M. Tucker of Steep Falls.

The farm is of historic interest, as there stands the oldest house in Hiram, being built in 1792 by Simeon Bucknell, one of the first settlers of Hiram. This farm has practically been in the Bucknell family ever since 1785, when John Bucknell with his son, Simeon, came from Fryeburg. Notably in history of this is that there has never been but two persons born in it. Mary, daughter of Simeon Bucknell and mother of Mrs. Hannah Peverly now living in Steep Falls and years afterward on Nov. 20, 1889, Thomas S. Clemens, son, of the recent owner.

Undoubtedly no farm in Hiram has met with so many physical changes as this one. Within the memory of many now living, the main road ran between the house and river and between the road and river was a large garden lot while the river bank was fringed with a fine row of large trees. Now this is all gone. The Saco river has, year after year, made inroads on the bank, until the trees, garden and road have long ago disappeared and now the old house stands just on the brink of a high, steep bank which every freshet threatens to completely undermine.

Once in history of this old landmark the house was struck by lightning and an old wall clock securely fastened to the wall was wrenched from its place and thrown across the room and carefully placed right end up on the floor without stopping the swing of the long pendulum, the bolt passing into the collar removed one stave from the pork barrel and a knife, which lay on the barrel was never found.

There is chorus of 40 voices and several solos. New scenery has been painted for this occasion by B. T. Newman, junior master of Fryeburg Academy.

Mrs. E. N. Stone recently received a copy of a fairy story written by Myra Boyd Morgan of Washington, D. C., the daughter of Dr. William G. Morgan and Mrs. Cora (Boyd) Morgan. This story was written when the young authoress was eight years old and it was pointed out as she composed it, in a small souvenir booklet. It is interesting and gives evidence of a vivid imagination. Dr. Morgan was formerly a resident of Fryeburg and fitted for Dartmouth college at Fryeburg Academy.

The Doctor's Question.

Much Sickness Due to Bowel Disorder.

A doctor's first question when consulted by a patient is, "Are your bowels regular?" He knows that 98 per cent of illness is attended with inactive bowels and torpid liver, and that this condition must be removed gently and thoroughly before health can be restored.

Reckall Orderlies are a positive, pleasant and safe remedy for constipation and bowel disorders in general. We are so certain of their great curative value that we promise to return the purchaser's money in every case when they fail to produce entire satisfaction.

Reckall Orderlies are eaten like candy, they act quietly, and have a soothing strengthening, healing influence on the entire intestinal tract. They do not purge, gripe, cause nausea, flatulence, excessive looseness, diarrhoea or other annoying effect. They are especially good for children, weak persons or old folks. Two sizes, 25c. and 10c. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store. F. F. Stone, Maine street, Norway, Me.

A birthday surprise and family gathering was given to Mrs. Mary Stevens at her home at Trap Corner last Sunday. It was Mrs. Stevens' 64th and her son Charles, of North Paris, 41st birthdays, and all her children and grandchildren were present except Dwight of Massachusetts.

The dining table was decorated with the Christmas green and red and over all was hung red and green tissue paper festooning caught up in the center with a large red tissue paper ball.

A beautifully decorated birthday cake held a prominent place on the table, while a sumptuous repast worthy of the occasion accompanied it. A quiet happy time was enjoyed by all.
